

East End Books from Five Leaves

William (Bill) Fishman

East End Jewish Radicals 1875-1914

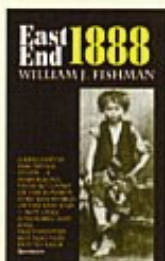

"An extraordinary period described by an inspired storyteller" ARNOLD WESKER

Essential reading for anyone interested in Victorian and Edwardian London, labour history, and East End Jewish history. 336 pages, 0907123457, £14.99

East End 1888

The life of the labouring poor in the year of Jack the Ripper and the Matchgirls' Strike, when poverty, crime and social unrest were at their height. 407 pages, 0907123856, £14.99

The Streets of East London

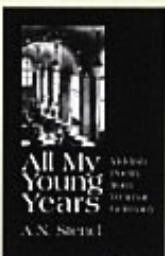

A classic text, covering the East End from the Huguenots to the Jews and on to the Bangladeshis. Wonderful photos by Nicholas Breach. 140 pages (large format), 0907123562, £12.99

A.N. Stencl

All My Young Years: Yiddish poetry from Weimar Germany

A Yiddish/English collection of Stencl's early poems together with a long essay on Stencl's background and East End years. 124 pages, 9781905512232, £7.99

Bernard Kops

Bernard Kops' East End

Extracts from the author's plays, fragments of memoir, poems, extracts from novels; all East End Jewish life is here

237 pages, 1905512112, £9.99

The World is a Wedding

The autobiography of Kops' East End childhood, followed by a journey through madness and drug addiction before his emergence in the 1950s as a major writer. 244 pages, 9781905512331, £9.99

Rudolf Rocker

The London Years

The autobiography of the German radical who became the leader of the Jewish anarchist movement until the start of WWI — a journey into a forgotten world. 228 pages, 0907123309, £14.99

Harold Rosen

Choose Your Frog

Where once this East End poet only knew the skinny dogs in Club Row and the eel stall in Hoxton Market he now embarks on an encounter with the countryside.

35 pages (pamphlet), 090712335X, £4.50

Post free from Five Leaves, PO Box 8786, Nottingham NG1 9AW.
Credit card orders: www.fiveleaves.co.uk or Inpress Books (020 8832 7464)